

My name is Elena, I'm 23 years old and I have stayed at Lonch Lewen Hotel for four days in September. I went with my boyfriend because we wanted to spend a few days relaxing in a charming hotel. I decided to book a room in this hotel after reading hundreds of opinions and after consulting a vast number of WebPages. Finally we booked a standard double room at Lonch Lewen Hotel.

First of all I want to talk about the location of our hotel. We arrived ~~to~~ at the village of Lewen by bus and, as you can see, the description says that the hotel is close to the bus station, so we opted for walking to the hotel. I have to say that the real problem is not how far the hotel is, the problem was that it is in a very little small street riddled with cars which is very difficult to find. The positive – thing is that the hotel is in the heart of Lewen so I'm certain that you wouldn't need to take a bus or a taxi unless you decide to visit the lake, which is far from the hotel, but you can opt for AN an (this is fine, I may have made a mistake with the correction) organised trip that the hotel offers. The main advantage of the location is that you will get to know the village like the back of your hand.

One of the best things in the hotel is the relation with the owners. It is true that, as the description says, you arrive as a guest and you leave as a friend. We kept in touch with Geraldine and Michael at all times and when we needed something they always tried to help us.

What about the room? As I have said before, we booked a standard double room but it was not as spacious as they say, in contrast, actually it was very small and we didn't even have a place to put our luggage. Furthermore, the bathroom was very little too and the hair dryer didn't work. The bedroom's furniture was very old and you don't expect this in a three-star hotel. I think that the room was the thing I liked the least.

Finally, we stayed there during for four days with A-HORRIBLE WEATHER (weather is uncountable, so you can't use "a"). We knew that Scotland is not a place with a mild climate, but we didn't expect such weather.

All I have written is only an opinion; the best way to take draw your own conclusions s is by visiting the hotel: Good luck!
