

- || I spend my holidays in San Esteban de Pravia, a little village ~~in~~ on the coast, in Asturias.
- || For me and my family it is a very tranquil and fantastic place. It ~~is~~ perfect for the summer, because ~~there is~~ you have the sea but there is also the estuary and the climate is very good.
- || You can do all kind of water activities, swimming, sailing, fishing, diving, etc., but, ~~in~~ on the other side, you are near the center of Asturias and also near the mountains.
- || The people who spend the summer over there ~~is~~ are always the same, it is a very familiar ~~tourism~~ atmosphere. We know each other and it is a safe place for children, ~~that~~ who can play in the street alone, even at night.
- || There is a little beach, it's a rock beach but, for locals, it is fantastic, all the children play together and there is a big sand beach near, at three kilometers.
- || There is a big saltwater swimming pool too, I think it's the only ~~one~~ saltwater one in Asturias. It's near the sea and there are stunning views.
- || In the village, there are several restaurants and bars and at night it is possible to have a drink with friends in charming places.
- || We don't go there too much in winter, but I ~~recognize~~ admit that it has a kind of charm. I'd like to see the rough sea and to stroll along the estuary and the sea. The village is very quiet in winter, there are few people and it's fantastic to rest.
